Ronald S. Moultrie

Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence & Security (USDI&S),
United States Department of Defense
Riva, Maryland, United States

Summary

Ron brings decades of proven leadership experience and uniquely well-informed insight, having held senior leadership roles in the National Security Agency (NSA), the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), and the Department of the Navy. Prior to becoming the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence & Security, Ron leveraged his expertise in cyber security, national security, and strategic thinking, while serving on the Board of Directors of an eclectic group of companies and organizations to include those in the financial, marketing and consulting, national security, and academic sectors. Ron was also a Board member of a number of non-profit organizations including those focused on national topics and challenges that include, but are not limited to, our nation's mental and emotional health, the capturing of America's history through film documentaries, and equipping leaders in multi-faith communities to pursue justice and healing in our world.

Leveraging decades of experience from his service as one of the United States of America's most senior national security officials, Ron Moultrie established Oceanus Security Strategies (OSS) to provide unique insights and counsel to clients seeking to gain a competitive advantage in a rapidly evolving, global business environment. Although specializing in current and emerging cyber security threats, Oceanus separates itself from other advisory and consulting services by thoroughly understanding your desired deliverables and business model and then providing your organization or enterprise with implementable "original thought" solutions.

In this capacity, Ron Moultrie is:

- Serving as a key advisor to a Fortune 50 company as it evolves its products to ensure global competitiveness
- Providing some of the world's leading venture capitalists, hedge fund managers, and strategic investors with unique insights on emerging Cyber security products, technologies, and trends to assist in their investment decisions
- Serving on the Cyber Advisory Group of one of the world's longest standing and premiere Research and Development organizations
- Partnering with several well-funded, high-potential start-ups as they optimize their products and develop a lucrative clientele base
- Providing strategic counsel and technical insights to an award winning Cyber security start-up on how to enhance its product and services for global clientele
- Partnering with one of the world's most successful Law Firms on a precedent-establishing legal case
- Providing current national security insights to senior government executives, industry leaders, and legislators
